

We can ask four story questions

1. What does this passage teach me about God?
2. What does this passage teach me about people (the religious and the irreligious)?
3. What does this passage teach me about place (the setting, situation, culture)?
4. What does this passage teach me about me – my personal response to these?

Four questions

1. What does this passage teach us about people?

Four questions

1. What does this passage teach us about people?
2. What does this passage say about place (the setting, situation)?

Four questions

1. What does this passage teach us about people?
2. What does this passage say about place (the setting, situation)?
3. What does this passage tell us about me?

Four questions

1. What does this passage teach us about people?
2. What does this passage say about place (the setting, situation)?
3. What does this passage tell us about me?
4. What does this passage tell us about God and His grace?

Meditation: 2 Cor 3:17-18

Now the Lord is the Spirit, and where the Spirit of the Lord is, there is freedom. And we, who with unveiled faces all reflect the Lord's glory, are being transformed into his likeness with ever-increasing glory, which comes from the Lord, who is the Spirit.